Welcome to Professor Rishikesh T. Krishnan

IIMI community is pleased to welcome Professor Rishikesh T. Krishnan, the new Director of the Indian Institute of Management Indore. Professor Krishnan arrived on the campus at 3 pm on January 1, 2014 and had a brief interaction with Administrative Heads, Academic Activity Heads and Faculty. Handing over ceremony took place at 4:30 pm in the central lawn of the Institute, followed by community group photograph.

After a formal handing over ceremony, Professor Krishnan said in his address to the IIM Indore community that he was very happy to join IIM Indore at this important juncture in the history of the Institute. He noted that IIM Indore has an excellent infrastructure, innovative academic programmes like the five-year Integrated Programme in Management (IPM) and the largest number of PGP students. He observed that there are several areas where IIM Indore is well poised to surge ahead in the future and with the support from all the stakeholders like students, staff, faculty and Board Members, the Institute would become the place of our dreams.

After completing an exciting 5 year tenure as Director, IIM Indore, Dr. N. Ravichandran returned to IIM Ahmedabad as Faculty (Production & Quantitative Methods Area) with effect from January 2, 2014.

Ahvan— IIM Indore's Annual Management Festival

Ahvan '13 was successfully organized by the students' community during December 6-8, 2013. Ahvan gets participation from the top B-schools of India. This year the theme of the festival was Inimitable, Instinctive, Inspirational.

During the event, Mr. Krishnan Chatterjee, Head, Corporate Strategy and Marketing, HCL enlightened the students with enriching experiences from his journey in the corporate world. He also discussed various initiatives taken by HCL in the recent past.

The creativity team of Ahvan paid a special artistic tribute to master blaster—Sachin Tendulkar.

The second day of the management festival started with the campus round for Chain Reaction— the flagship operations event, and some intense quizzing with Jigyasa— the quizzing conclave.

In a reflection of the competitive atmosphere, the campus wore a distinctive look with several works of art reflecting the Indian Style of Management, including a poster on Indian Business Style, painted in the Warli art style which showcased indigenous feisty Indian brands and companies, including Nirma, Amul and Mumbai's dabbawalasas well as 3-D models of Shatranj (chess) and Chausar (ancient Ludo).

Advaita— the human resources event, selected its winners by conducting a simulation of the recruitment process. The IT acumen of the participants was challenged by the event—Zero One Infinity. The finalists of Neetishastra visited the SMEs in the food, packaging, chemicals and auto industries. The speaker series saw a talk on Branding Amidst the Clutter by Mr. Amit Shrivastava, Director, Learning Curve.

The final day of Ahvan 2013 began with an enlightening speech by Mr. D.K. Joshi, Chief Economist, CRISIL.

Ruchik Gandhi, a PGP student of IIM Indore, won the finale of Ashwamedha— the leadership event of IIM Indore. In the sales and marketing event—Gordian Knots, the finalists were tested on the concept of visual merchandising. Klueless— an online game which has many levels containing intriguing puzzles and brainteasers, attracted over 20,000 unique players and 1.1 million hits from participants in over 110 countries.

S.P. Jain Institute of Management & Research bagged the first place in the final round of Jigyasa— the flagship quizzing conclave. The team from Jadhavpur University was a close second in a fiercely contested final round hosted by the one of India's best quizzmasters— Arul Mani.

Curveball, the first-time event at Ahvan was based on sports management as its premise. The contestants from IIM Indore swept the first and second places in the event wherein the participants tried to design innovative national level events for the so-called unpopular sports in India.

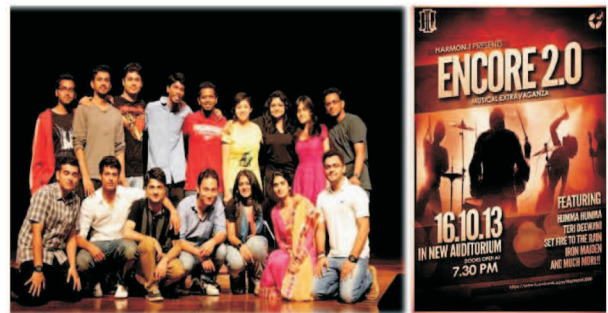

The fest remained true to its tagline by recognizing the management talent that was truly inimitable, instinctive and inspirational. The fest concluded with the participants enjoying the DJ night.

ENCORE 2.0— A Musical Extravaganza by HARMON-I

Harmon-I— the Music Club of IIM Indore, introduced the new team of the year with a smashing performance on October 16, 2013 at the new auditorium.

The show opened with a Western instrumental medley followed by a myriad of popular Eastern and Western numbers such as Humma, Iron Maiden, Teri Deewani, Jiya Re, and Set Fire to the Rain etc. The audience sat spellbound and was enthralled by the amazing performances put up by the band.

Mridang

The 5th edition of annual cultural extravaganza of IIM Indore— Mridang, began on December 5, 2013 with Jagriti— a social initiative for the welfare of rural school children. Jagriti, is aimed at promoting education, based on the concept of A Fist full of Rice and Heart full of Love given by late Sri Sathya Sai Baba. The event sensitized rural and urban school students about the importance of education and facilitated interaction between students from urban and rural schools.

During the two-day long event, the students visited Government Secondary School, Dudhiya Village, Nemawar Road; Government Primary School, Deoguradiya Village; and Government Primary School, Bichauli Hipsi Village. The schools were provided with facilities such as water filters for safe drinking water, school bags, sports equipment, notebooks, stationery and other essentials for rural students. These small steps were aimed at increasing the enthusiasm of rural students and also removing basic impediments that the students face. Revelry was also extended to them by organizing on-spot games, creativity workshops, fun activities and interaction with the Jagriti team members in order to drive home the point about the importance of education and career. The entire event was sponsored by UCO Bank, Indore.

Jagriti lends a virtuous meaning to the spirit of Mridang by disseminating awareness at the fundamental level to children, the future actors of the nation building process. Jagriti was started three years back with an idea to sensitize the rural and urban school students about the importance of education and it facilitates interaction between students from urban and rural schools.

Book Launch: Us.- Understanding and Enabling Adoption

The book entitled Us- Understanding and Enabling Adoption authored by Avinash Kumar was launched by Dr. N. Ravichandran, Director, IIM Indore on October 4, 2013. The book is a unique resource on adoption that every member of the society needs to assimilate. The book provides an insight into adoption hitherto not discussed in any social event, media, school curriculum or public forum. It goes beyond adoptive parents and reaches out to each member of the society to develop a child-centric approach to adoption, understand about adoption holistically and discover every person's role in enabling adoption, even before adoption becomes relevant or inevitable for the individual.
