Summary

I'm a creative and dynamic person, who loves challenges.

I prefer leading by example and am good at convincing people and resolving deadlocks.

My curious nature drives me to delve deep into subject fundamentals to gain a comprehensive understanding. This curiosity serves me well in project work, where I ask the right questions to elevate both the qualitative and quantitative output.

As a technology enthusiast, I enjoy customizing tools and systems to optimize resources and enhance efficiency. I am passionate about continuous improvement and leveraging technology to drive innovation in everything I do.
