The Indian Institute of Management Indore (IIM Indore) formally commenced the celebrations for its 27th Annual Convocation with a dignified Pre-Convocation Ceremony held on campus on March 27, 2026. The event celebrated the achievements, leadership, and contributions of students and alumni, setting the tone for the main convocation scheduled for March 28, 2026.

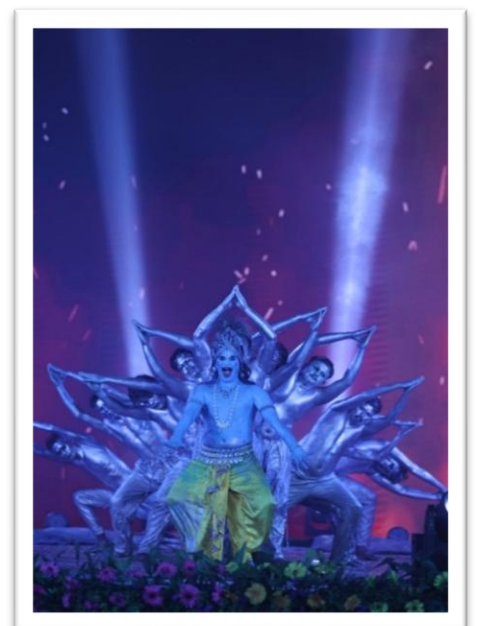

During the ceremony, Prof. Himanshu Rai, Director, IIM Indore, felicitated student committee coordinators for their exemplary leadership and commitment towards institutional initiatives. Certificates of appreciation were presented to recognize their contributions to academic, cultural, and professional activities. The Director also honoured top-performing students across programmes for their outstanding academic achievements.

Prof. Himanshu Rai, Director, IIM Indore, said, "The Pre-Convocation Ceremony is a meaningful occasion for us to recognize the dedication, leadership, and achievements of our students and alumni. Their commitment to excellence and contribution to the institute's vibrant ecosystem make us immensely proud." He further added, "As we prepare to confer degrees upon the graduating cohort at the 27th Annual Convocation, we are confident that our students will carry forward the values of integrity, leadership, and social responsibility, emerging as capable professionals and true brand ambassadors of IIM Indore."

The Pre-Convocation celebrations also featured a mesmerising cultural evening performance by the renowned Prince Dance Group, which captivated the audience with its powerful choreography, artistic storytelling, and high-energy presentation.

The performance beautifully blended contemporary and traditional dance elements, showcasing themes of perseverance, unity, and aspiration.

A truly captivating experience that left the audience spellbound.

IIM Indore Hosts its 27th Annual Convocation

The Indian Institute of Management Indore (IIM Indore) proudly hosted its 27th Annual Convocation on 28 March 2026, celebrating the remarkable achievements of its graduating participants. Dr. Janmejaya Sinha, Chairman – BCG India, graced the event as the Chief Guest and delivered the Convocation Address. This year, 798 students from seven flagship programmes were awarded their degrees, marking a significant milestone in their academic and professional journeys.

In his opening remarks, Shri M. M. Murugappan, Chairman of the Board of Governors, IIM Indore, extended his heartfelt congratulations to the graduating batch and their families. He shared a thoughtful perspective on leadership and institutional relevance. He remarked that longevity alone is not the defining hallmark of a great institution. Its ability to remain relevant in a constantly evolving world is what truly matters.

He praised Prof. Rai for his visionary leadership and applauded all the initiatives undertaken during his tenure in the last seven years, which have strengthened IIM Indore at a global level. Drawing a distinction between complicated and complex challenges, he said, "While complicated problems may have clear solutions, complex problems demand thoughtful and adaptive responses".

He emphasised that the defining capability of this generation of managers will not merely be problem-solving, but the ability to navigate ambiguity with clarity and resilience. Encouraging graduates to cultivate core leadership values, he highlighted fearlessness, generosity, wisdom, and drive as the essential qualities that shape impactful leaders. He urged them to carry these attributes forward as they step into dynamic professional environments and assume greater responsibilities.

Prof. Himanshu Rai, Director, IIM Indore, in his address, described what he called the three anchors for life that would guide the graduates in their journey ahead. He emphasised the importance of clarity of purpose, noting that in a rapidly changing world, a strong sense of purpose serves as an internal compass, defining one's own sense of success.

He also spoke about the strength of character, highlighting that integrity and credibility form the true foundation of leadership, especially under pressure. Talking about the third anchor, the spirit of contribution, he said, "Measure success not only by personal achievements but by the positive impact they create for society through compassionate and responsible leadership". He noted that in the coming years, the institute aims to build on its current momentum by expanding global collaborations, enhancing research excellence, and introducing innovative programmes that respond to the evolving needs of industry and society.

In his Convocation Address, the Chief Guest, Dr. Janmejaya Sinha, offered a deeply reflective, human-centric perspective on leadership in today's world. He reminded graduates that at the heart of all systems, strategies, and technologies are people, and that it is essential to recognise humans as sentient beings. Emphasising the importance of emotional intelligence and awareness, he shared the anagram "LOCALE" as a guiding framework for effective leadership.

Each letter, he explained, represents a critical quality – Listening, Observation, Curiosity, Affirmation, Learning, and Empathy. He said, “Together, these principles encourage leaders to engage more meaningfully with individuals and contexts, strengthening trust, understanding, and collaboration”. He urged graduates to internalise these values as they navigate complex global environments, highlighting that true leadership lies not just in decision-making, but in the ability to connect, understand, and inspire people in an increasingly interconnected world. The participants from eight academic programmes conferred their degrees. The programme-wise number of graduates is as follows:

1. Post Graduate Programme in Management (PGP) – 501
2. Post Graduate Programme in Management- Mumbai (PGPMX) 63
3. Post Graduate Programme in Human Resource Management (PGPHRM) 38
4. Five Year Integrated Programme in Management (IPM) – 102
5. One Year Full Time Residential Post Graduate Programme for Executives (EPGP) 67
6. Doctoral Programme in Management (DPM) 17
7. Executive Doctoral Programme in Management (EDPM) 09
8. Executive Doctoral Programme in Management & Governance (EDPMG) 01

Adding to the momentous occasion, Gold Medalists were also felicitated for their outstanding academic and overall performance, symbolizing the highest level of excellence achieved by the graduating class.

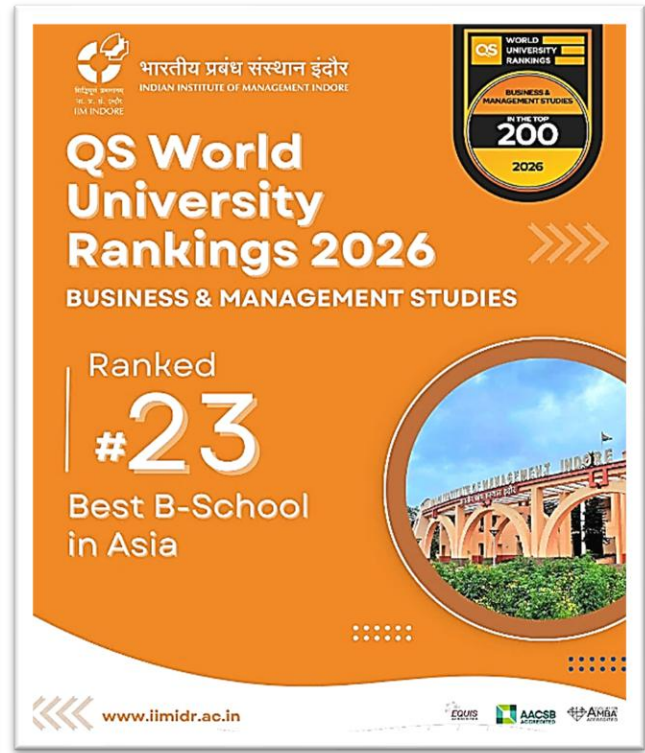

The 27th Annual Convocation of IIM Indore was a grand celebration of excellence, leadership, and lifelong learning, setting the stage for the graduates to embark on their future with confidence and ambition.

A Proud Milestone: IIM Indore Earns Maximum-Term EQUIS Re-Accreditation

IIM Indore has again secured EQUIS Re-accreditation, this time for the maximum duration of five years - a significant milestone that reinforces our commitment to academic excellence, global benchmarks, and continuous progress.

As we celebrate this proud moment, we remain focused on scaling new heights and strengthening our global standing in management education.

At IIM Indore, we are always delighted to welcome leaders who serve the nation with dedication and vision.

17 March 2026: It was such a pleasure meeting Lt. Gen. Praveen Bakshi, VSM, Commandant, MCTE, Mhow, along with his distinguished team today at our campus.

We had an enriching discussion on exploring potential avenues of academic interaction, collaboration, and knowledge exchange between our two premier institutions, as their discipline, strategic thinking, leadership under pressure, and commitment to excellence resonate deeply with the values we nurture at IIM Indore.

Such engagements strengthen the bridge between management education and defence leadership, opening up meaningful opportunities for joint learning, research collaboration, and nation-building initiatives.

At IIM Indore, we take immense pride in creating platforms that encourage dialogue, mutual respect, and partnerships that contribute to developing future-ready leaders for the country.

Executive Education | Leadership is not confined to boardrooms.

21 March 2026: It is equally vital in healing spaces, hospital corridors, and moments of critical decision-making. It was a delight conducting a power-packed weekend session on Strategic and Effective Leadership for the participants of the Executive Programme in Healthcare Management – Batch 3 at IIM Indore.

Together, we reflected on how visionary leadership can enable teams to navigate uncertainty and convert challenges into opportunities for impact. The discussions centred around resilience, the art of never giving up, overcoming fear, and making the right decisions. I also shared the art of breaking limiting mindsets, building strategic clarity, and leading with empathy and purpose, with examples from the Mahabharata.

What made the session special was the depth of engagement, the willingness to question existing paradigms, and the shared commitment to creating meaningful change. Deeply overwhelmed and grateful for the warmth, affection, and genuine love received from this inspiring group of professionals. Wishing the cohort all the very best for their future endeavours.

It was a privilege to host Prof. Jenny George, Dean of Melbourne Business School and Co-Dean at the University of Melbourne, during her visit to the IIM Indore campus.

The interaction provided an excellent platform for engaging and insightful discussions on potential future collaborations, innovations in management education, and the shared goal of nurturing globally responsible leaders. The visit also served to further strengthen the spirit of India–Australia knowledge exchange. IIM Indore looks forward to building on this meaningful engagement and fostering a long-term partnership that enables shared learning, academic excellence, and impactful outcomes.

Research Seminar | Why do people continue to believe information even after it has been proven false? What role do motivation and prior attitudes play in shaping such beliefs?

13 March 2026: Addressing these compelling questions, IIM Indore hosted Prof. Duane Wegener, Professor and Department Chair in Social and Decision Psychology at The Ohio State University, USA, for a research seminar on March 13, 2026.

In his talk, “Continued Belief in Information After It Is Labeled as False: The Role of Motivation,” Prof. Wegener examined how motivational factors, beyond purely cognitive mechanisms, can sustain belief in misinformation. Drawing on a series of studies, he highlighted how psychological discomfort arising from incomplete causal explanations or conflicts with prior attitudes can drive continued belief, influence information-seeking behavior, and shape how individuals share information.

The seminar was coordinated by Prof. Shruti Tewari, Dean - Research, and was attended by faculty, students and staff of the IIM Indore community.

Through such thought-provoking sessions, IIM Indore continues to promote critical inquiry into behavioral science, decision-making, and the societal implications of research.

“Finance careers are not disappearing; they are evolving at the intersection of finance, data, and technology,” observes Prof. Himanshu Rai, Director, IIM Indore.

In response to the rapidly transforming BFSI landscape, IIM Indore is proactively reshaping its curriculum to align with emerging industry requirements. The Institute is placing a strong emphasis on areas such as financial analytics, AI-driven business intelligence, ethics, and corporate risk management, ensuring that graduates are well-equipped to navigate the future of finance.

Chief Officer (Administration), Col. Dr. Gururaj Pamidi (Veteran), also applauded the discipline, sportsmanship, and collective enthusiasm witnessed throughout the tournament.
